

Bisht, K. S.
Senior Assistant Professor
Department of Geography
DBS(PG) College, Dehradun
Uttarakhand 248001

Dr. Bisht Completed his doctoral study on "Landforms Study" in Jalkur Basin in 1993 from Garhwal University. He joined the Department as lecturer in 2009. Earlier, he has been closely associated with the Geography Department of Garhwal University almost for one decade. He is the editor of popular books, Resource Appraisals, Technology Application and Environmental challenges in Central Himalaya (two volumes) and has more than one dozen research publications to his credit. Dr. Bisht is presently guiding researchers on various perspectives of Uttarakhand Himalaya, especially on the subject Environment and Land Resource. He also attended ISRO sponsored training course on GIS and Remote Sensing at IIRS Center Dehradun. He has also been nominated as member of Higher Education council of Uttarakhand.